

Opposum Hiccups

Once upon a time there lived a little girl opossum named Lily. She loved to explore. One day she went to explore the woods. Suddenly she started to hiccup. She still stayed in the woods. Then Lily saw a shadow. It was a fox! Lily ask what was the foxes name. It was Chuck. Lily asked if Chuck knew how to get rid of hiccups. Chuck said if you drink water and hold your breath for ten seconds it might work. Lily tried it and it didn't work. Chuck left. Lily walked three miles til she came to a river. There was a platopus! His name was Max. Lily asked once again if he were to know how to get rid of hiccups. Max thought. Max striked an idea. He said try to hang upside down. That didn't work either. Lily walked another three miles. Then Lily came to a small tree. There she saw a woodpecker. His name was Woody Woody said if you eat two bananas then do a handstand it should work. Of course it didn't work. Lily left. Then she walked one mile. She saw a lion! But it was a nice lion. His name was Rustle. Rustle was the king of the woods. Rustle heard that Lily had hiccups. Rustle thought. He said everything that Lily tried. Lily bowed and left. It was getting dark. Lily was heading home and she saw a bat! Lily nearly fainted! All the bat asked was do you want a piece of candy? Then suddenly Lilies hiccups were gone! Lily thanked the bat and left for home. Lily told her mom and dad about what happened in the woods. She told them about the amazing animals that had helped her. Mostly the bat. She lived happily ever after.

Hicc up! Hicc up!
Hicc up piii!!!
