

David

A boy with a talent to make all things so peaceful and still David, now only a child, would be man who understands God's will.

Chosen by God, who told him he was the one.

Willingly went into combat, proven a worthy son.

David, a humble boy, whose arrogance was contained.

Better him, then a soldier already trained.

Facing a foe who was truly immense,

all that David needed was faith for his defense.

Making his way into battle, walking towards the enemy line,

his faith in God's victory was hard to confine.

Boldly, he strode to the giant standing strong and tall.

Little David, calmly showed no fear at all.

Picking up five stones smooth, tough, and round,

he took one out of his hand, quietly without a sound

David grasped his slingshot and aimed for the colossal man.

His aim was true, successfully completing God's plan.

The giant was brought down by a small boy who refused to retreat.

With God's power the enemy with armor was easy to defeat.

Walking up to the warrior, who was already dead

David took a trophy, the giant's enormous head.

Unbelievably shocked were the Philistine men to see this small child kill their massive friend.

Goliath, the giant, was their best man,

but against God, no enemies can successfully stand.

David, truly is God's man, noble and just.

Being a follower of God isn't easy, but for David it was a must.

He loved God all of his days,
and reminds me to trust God through any kind of haze.

David, a man of God, was brave and true.

I can't wait to get to heaven and meet you!

281 Words