

November 6, 2009

Dear FACCS Family,

Dr. Dino Pedrone, the third president of the Florida Association of Christian Colleges and Schools, has provided Godly leadership for our state these past ten years. Recently, he has resigned as pastor of the New Testament Baptist Church and as president of Dade Christian School in Miami and The Master's Academy in Fort Lauderdale to become the full-time president of Davis College in Binghamton, New York. As a result, he will be stepping down as president of FACCS.

The transition from his presidency with FACCS until the appointment of a new president will work smoothly because Dr. Pedrone will be able to lead the FACCS staff and work with the Board of Directors. Since this is a key position in the organization, we will prayerfully seek God's will in the appointment of a new president. As soon as he is chosen, we will introduce him to you.

FACCS member schools can continue to operate with the greatest of confidence as Dr. Howard Burke represents their interests in the Capitol Office. He has served for 39 years with excellence. Dr. Wesley Scott will continue his service, providing skillful direction from his Office of Program Services. These two gentlemen serve tirelessly.

Thank you for praying as God prepares FACCS to receive the leadership of its new president.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script that reads "Jerry Williamson".

Dr. Jerry Williamson, Vice President and the FACCS Board of Directors