FEATURES OF THE IACCS STANFORD 10/OLSAT8 TESTING PROGRAM

The Stanford Achievement Test Series, Tenth Edition (Stanford 10) has numerous features that make it stand out from other achievement batteries.

- ⇒ Elicit Students' Best Performance—Stanford 10 has been carefully designed to engage students in the test. Test format and design, answer document design, and administration procedures all contribute to encouraging students to show what they know and can do.
- ⇒ Full-Color Testing Materials—Stanford 10 is the only achievement test series to provide full-color testing materials, with realistic illustrations designed to make this test more closely resemble instructional materials used in the classroom every day.
- ⇒ Clear Navigation—The student-friendly test pages have been carefully designed to emphasize important navigational elements, such as framing each question and visually highlighting question numbers. The Stanford 10 format is clear, consistent, intuitive, and uncluttered and is intended to motivate students to answer all questions and do their best.
- ⇒ Unique Answer Document—A unique, easy-to-navigate answer document helps students stay on track while taking the test. The answer document visually organizes the answer spaces according to the questions on each page in the test booklet and the content area. This document provides a clear road map for guiding students through the process of marking their answers.
- ⇒ Untimed Testing—Stanford 10 is untimed to encourage all students to complete the test and give their best effort. Testing time guidelines help administrators and teachers plan.
- ⇒ Content-Referenced Performance Standards—Performance standards are available for Stanford 10. Students can receive, in addition to the full array of norm-referenced information, content-referenced scores that represent achievement levels: partial mastery, solid academic performance, and superior performance.
- ⇒ Innovative New Types of Multiple-Choice Questions—Items that call for actual performance on the part of the students encourage divergent thinking and problem solving.
- ⇒ Emphasis on Thinking Skills—All of the items in Stanford 10 assess either Basic Understanding or Thinking Skills, with more items than ever before assessing the higher order skills.
- ⇒ Content and Process Cluster Scores—In addition to Thinking Skills scores, Stanford 10 includes embedded process scores. These scores require no additional testing time.
- ⇒ Alignment with the National Assessment of Educational Progress (NAEP)—The Stanford 10 Reading Comprehension test provides similar information about students' reading ability to that from the NAEP. Scores include type of reading selection—Literary, Informational, and Functional—as well as the important reading processes—Initial Understanding, Interpretation, Critical Analysis, and Strategies.
- ⇒ Reading Selections Commissioned from Published Authors—Many of the selections in the Reading Comprehension test are written by well-known authors of children's and young people's books.
- ⇒ Two Mathematics Tests: Mathematics Problem Solving and Mathematics Procedures—The Mathematics Problem Solving and Mathematics subtests reflect the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics (NCTM) Principles and Standards for School Mathematics. Further reflecting these Principles and Standards, the Mathematics Procedures subtest contains context that allows students to see a reason for doing the calculations.
- ⇒ Mathematics Reference Sheets and Calculators—A Mathematics Reference Sheet is required for the Mathematics Problem Solving (Advanced 1 and 2) or Mathematics (TASK 1, 2, and 3) subtests. In addition, calculators may be used at those levels plus at Intermediate 1, 2, and 3.

- ⇒ Emphasis on the NCTM Principles and Standards—As specified by the NCTM Principles and Standards, most mathematics items in Stanford 10 are presented in context and emphasize the problem solving and reasoning skills promoted by the NCTM Principles and Standards and all state content standards.
- ⇒ Spelling Tested in an Authentic Format—The Spelling test presents items in the context of a sentence rather than as isolated words. Beginning at the Primary 3 level, a “No Mistake” option is included in order to assess students' ability to recognize words that are spelled correctly as well as incorrectly.
- ⇒ Listening Assessed Realistically—The Listening test includes longer passages on topics that engage students with more items per passage-typically between 3 and 6. Students are allowed to take notes while listening.
- ⇒ Emphasis on Process Skills in Science and Social Science The number of retention or recognition items in Science and Social Science are limited, with a significant number of items assessing process skills of these disciplines.
- ⇒ Combination Testing with the Otis-Lennon School Ability Test™, Eighth Edition (OLSAT8) - When Stanford 10 is administered in combination with OLSAT8, Achievement/Ability Comparison scores provide meaningful information about students in comparison with other students of the same measured ability.

IACCS will use the Stanford Achievement Test Series, Tenth Edition, and the Otis-Lennon School Ability Test™, Eighth Edition, for its norm-referenced testing program. Both tests are copyrighted by Pearson Education, Inc. The Stanford Achievement Test Series, Tenth Edition (Stanford 10) and the Otis-Lennon School Ability Test™, Eighth Edition (OLSAT8), are available at all grade levels, Kindergarten through Grade 12.

Handbook for Test Coordinators

The instructions contained in the IACCS Handbook for Test Coordinators supplement the Stanford 10 Directions for Administering and the OLSAT8 Directions for Administering. The handbook outlines the responsibilities of the School Test Coordinator and Teachers/Examiners for receiving and distributing test materials; administering the test; and collecting, packaging, and returning the answer documents to Pearson's Scoring Center in Austin, Texas. It also contains information for ordering scoring services and examples of score reports. It is essential that the guidelines in the IACCS Handbook be followed carefully.

Membership Required

Current, active (2011-12) IACCS school membership is required in order to participate in the 2012 IACCS Spring Testing Program. This year's testing is scheduled to occur between March 19 and April 27, 2012. All orders for test materials must be submitted no later than December 30, 2011. Prices listed on this form are subject to increase on orders submitted after January 1, 2012. Machine scorable documents should be shipped to the scoring center to arrive no later than May 4, 2012. Documents arriving after May 4, 2012 will NOT be included in the IACCS summary data and will NOT receive IACCS local norms on the reports.

KEYLINKS: THE CONNECTION BETWEEN INSTRUCTION & ASSESSMENT

This interactive assessment tool helps teachers evaluate students' reading, mathematics, and science performance, while developing test-taking skills. KeyLinks questions resemble those found on standardized tests, including Stanford 10. The variety of opportunities for both multiple-choice and student constructed responses helps students develop different types of test-taking strategies and encourages learning any time during the year. Available for Reading/Language Arts, Mathematics, and Science. (Package of 25 Student Booklets, includes one Teacher's Manual).

- ⇒ The Stanford 10 Directions for Administering for SESAT 2, Primary 1, and Primary 2 suggest the students use "markers" during the test as place markers while the test is being administered. Place Markers may be purchased on this order form (page 7).
- ⇒ IACCS students may use calculators for the Mathematics Problem Solving (grades 4-8) and Mathematics (grades 9-12) subtests of Stanford 10. Calculators must be four function calculators. Specific details are outlined in the Handbook for Test Coordinators.
- ⇒ When planning your order, please consider a possible increase in your enrollment. We recommend ordering 5 to 10% above your current needs.

- ⇒ IACCS testing materials may be purchased in single copies as well as in packages of 10 or 30. PLEASE NOTE: Stanford 10 and OLSAT 8 Directions for Administering and practice test Directions for Administering must be ordered separately. Prices for directions are listed on this order form.
- ⇒ Pearson will not ship to a home address.
- ⇒ Individual schools will receive separate invoices for test materials and scoring services.
- ⇒ The Test Coordinator's Handbook illustrates the IACCS Score Package and optional score reports. The Special Program Order for Scoring Services (SPOSS) Form is posted on the IACCS website.
