

Oh, What to Write!

Tap, tap,

Empty mind,

A restless pencil still awaits its first command,

You have yet to submit to emotions,

Woe is you, never ingenious with a pen,

But see now, you've yet to understand,

Oh, what to write!

Boom, boom,

The timbre of determined cannons,

Beating like a drum of war,

Write of valor and fortitude,

Of gallantry and intrepidity,

A glorious victory on the cusp of reality,

Oh, what to write!

Crash, crash,

The assonance of defeat,

The enemy has their nectarous revenge,

Write of rout and ruin,

Of conquest and collapse,

A battalion of downtrodden peoples,

Oh, what to write!

Whoosh, whoosh,

The volume of butterflies,

Deep within the young one,

Write of adoration and adulation,

Of fondness and fervor,

The gift of devotion in a new leaf,
Oh what to write!

Crack, crack,
The melody of a tragic heartbreak,
A loss too atrocious to even mention,
Write of agony and anguish,
Of desolation and despair,
The tormented tears of those in pain,
Oh, what to write!

Splash, splash,
Into a new universe of possibilities,
Step confidently into the next realm,
Write of inquisitiveness and interest,
Of oddity and outlandishness,
A world of wondrous adventure is beckoning,
Oh, what to write!